A: There is only one reason to look for the registration code: activation. The activation code is used to register the software and when it expires, it's you who has to buy a new license, not the software manufacturer. You can try it by following the steps: download the serial number and registration key from MAGIX official website Enter the serial number and registration code in the activation form. The software will show a message that the license is activated. For your other questions, please try to use the following forum where more experienced people will be able to help you:
