Q: Show that $\lim_{(n,m) \rightarrow (\infty, \infty)} \left(\frac{n+m}{n} - \frac{m}{n} \right) = 0$ How would I show this? I know how to show when $n \rightarrow \infty$ but I can't figure out how to apply the condition that $(n,m) \rightarrow (\infty, \infty)$ A: When $n \rightarrow \infty$, the term $\frac{n+m}{n} - \frac{m}{n} \rightarrow \frac{1+m}{n} - \frac{m}{n} = 0$. The Pirelli World Challenge will head to the west coast of the United States for the third time in three years with the Long Beach Grand Prix. The race will take place at 1pm ET on August 13 at the Lime Rock Park road course. That's the same weekend as the IndyCar Grand Prix, which will be held at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. As a result, The Pirelli World Challenge will be the second-to-last race of the season to carry IndyCar branding. With other events being run on the same weekend, the Long Beach race will be the only Pirelli World Challenge race which will carry IndyCar's shine. This year's race comes at a tough time for the World Challenge, however. The event has lost one of its biggest sponsors, GM. The automaker pulled out of the sanctioning body's flagship race in favor of the IMSA WeatherTech SportsCar Championship series. Furthering the comparison, the World Challenge season has been plagued by bad luck, high attrition and teams struggling to make the new Gen3 TCR (the new formula used in the IndyCar Grand Prix and IMSA WeatherTech SportsCar Championship). The only drivers to win races this year have been drivers from the factory-backed teams of Honda, Porsche and Mazda. As such, this will be the first time since 2012 that PWC has been run at its home track, the Laguna Seca Raceway. Since 2012, the race has been run at the 12-turn Road America road course in 570a42141b
