So you've already bought your new IT device and are quite delighted with it. As a matter of fact you were really excited and saw it at least 10 times. Just take it out of your computer bag and plug it in. You will be quite disappointed. No matter how often you think that it will last longer, it still starts blowing up or blinks out. Maybe that is the reason why the company that you purchased it from didn't provide a warranty. In that case, the only option you have is to try to contact the company's technical support. Moreover, it will end with refund or replacement. Yes, the support will help you find out what caused the problem, but you will have to deal with the replacement yourself. The problem is not only with the purchase, but it can also happen when you use the product, or eventually something else will cause a problem. A classic example is an application. Imagine you have bought a new webcam, but the driver will not work. You do not know how to replace it by yourself and you are not going to contact the service to get support. You will have to find someone and buy a new one. This is exactly the same with PCs. What is GreenCloud? GreenCloud is a product that can resolve the above mentioned issue. All you need to do is to make sure that you have registered the product when you purchased it. Install the driver on your computer and connect it to a newly power computer. This is where you can find software settings and change them to the settings that you want. GreenCloud Software and Drivers are available for free download. And you can download greencloud at the following link: GreenCloud Features: • Support only Microsoft products. • Support and support of other products can be added later. • Customers who purchased in the last three years are not charged for support. • Fully functional installer. • GreenCloud can print on a wide range of paper sizes and configurations. • Functionality of GreenCloud is not limited to just the printing and copying features. GreenCloud Printer is simple to use, simple to install, and simple to use. As a virtual printer, this application allows you to utilize the advantages of being able to print documents with a unique look and feel to your standard default printer. Much like the "print preview" in MS Word, or the layout "page setup" in WordPerfect, you can choose to have your document or data fit the physical size of the standard paper while retaining the color scheme, fonts, and any watermarks as they appeared on the screen. It is a simple way to generate a quick, professional looking document that will wow your coworkers and impress your superiors.

Q: Why does this work? If I can only select one option of something, why do I receive that choice? If I select "All" my choices will show up in a drop down menu. I tried to select the first option. It did not show up in the drop down menu. But when I clicked on the drop down menu, the first option appeared. Just to add information, the code is from another website. `function returnVariants(e) { var clicks = $(e.target).attr('clicked'); if(clicks === "null") { $("#ddlAll").show(); } else { $("#ddlAll").hide(); } } A: The first option is what you have selected (assuming this is a select element), if you have another option selected in the dropdown and then click on the select element, the first option will be selected automatically. You have to explicitly click the select element again in order to hide it. EDIT I just noticed that the condition $("#ddlAll").show(); is not going to show the element, since it's hidden by default. You probably meant to use $("#ddlAll").css('display', 'block');. Q: Bootstrap and Font Awesome folder structure for folder`
