Looking forward to following it for some time :) Do you have any suggestions or hints for aspiring writers? I'm planning to start my own website soon but I'm a little lost on everything. Would you recommend starting with a free platform like Wordpress or go for a paid option? There are so many choices out there that I'm totally confused.. Any tips? Appreciate it!This is the second time that I have written in this column regarding the failure of the New York Times' latest attempt to protect its readers from the crimes of Donald Trump. The Times' reporting the other day that Trump allegedly "preferred M&M's" is so ludicrously dishonest it is almost unbelievable. The Sunday Times initially reported on its website that it was "breaking" the story and included with the story an actual image of M&M's candy. The purpose of this was apparently to prove to Times readers that the Times was somehow reporting on a story about M&M's candy that had taken place in the past. However, as I

December 13, 2007 This morning I was doing a face lift on a work of art just returned from rehab. I shaved a few whiskers off the old boy and then I began to do the muscle definition. I had to use three scrub brushes and nine powder brushes for the application process. I had to have five dark lights on to see what I was doing and the rest of the room to blend the color, the tools and the color. I thought of this work of art and for the rest of my life I will remember it as I have seen others remember Napoleon. As a struggling artist I grew up in that artist's salon of Wild Rose Art in New York. Great influences must have come through my family, or maybe I just wanted them to. As I touched this painting I realized there was a lot of trial and error in this work of art. I had to push back the dark color to make it light and then push the light color back, so the dark color came back in, dark, light, dark, light, dark, light. It was almost like a 3-D puzzle. It took a little over an hour to get the old ad man just right. I won't say anything else about it for a day or two to let the paint dry to reveal the magic. I had an artist's reception this afternoon and the artists got to see the painting. The faces were a little banged up and this afternoon, but I'm sure by the next
